Printing Speed Control

Printing speed means the profit of the printing factory. Running the machine too fast may cause problems such as position offset, inaccurate color and high waste rate. This is not the case in Shengcai. The running speed of our machine is only 8000-13000rpm, and its maximum capacity reaches 20000rpm. Our years of practice have proved that this is the best speed to balance productivity and printing quality.

TPROFESSIONAL TEAM

Shengcai team is a closely united and talented team. Their common vision is to provide consistent excellent performance for our customers, while ensuring that the company is an interesting, inclusive and challenging workplace and developing a meaningful career.
